

Video Production

Script Starter

The purpose of this activity is to provide a story starter that enables you to write a 1 or 2 page script about getting up in the morning to go to school.

The scene starts off by seeing an alarm clock going off and your hand reaches over and turns off the alarm.

Your Mother or father say something to you to make sure you get up out of bed.

Now describe what you see in your mind that tells the story about you getting ready for school. Be creative.