If you obtain your gas supply from a third party supplier, charge 4 does not apply. A charge similar to this would appear on your bill from your third party supplier.

Gas Explanation of Charges

The basic billing unit for gas is a therm. The charge for each therm used is determined by the rate schedule.

1. Service Charge: A fixed monthly charge that includes the cost to maintain an account for a customer, including metering and billing.

2. Distribution Charge: The charge for delivering gas to a customer's home, including the cost of government-mandated programs designed to achieve public policy goals, such as energy conservation; also includes certain net revenue credits. Refer to the Tariff for Gas Service for more details.

3. Balancing Charge: Shown here are the charges for both balancing and weather normalization which are applied from November through March only. The Balancing Charge is for using PSE&G's storage system to adjust for the differences between the amount of gas delivered for a customer on a daily basis versus the amount of gas used by a customer on a daily basis. The Weather Normalization Charge can be either a credit or a charge.

4. Supply Charge: The charge associated with the cost of natural gas supply. Refer to PSE&G's website for current charge.

5. Price to Compare (PTC): A customer may choose to receive gas supply from PSE&G or a third party supplier. PTC is calculated using a customer's natural gas usage and the cost per therm for that gas. This number is useful in helping a customer compare offers from third party suppliers. The current PTC is available on PSE&G's website.

PSE&G will continue to deliver gas to its customers and is the company that customers call if they have problems with their service.

- 1. Service Charge: A fixed monthly charge that includes the cost to maintain an account for a customer, including metering and billing.

3. Supply Charge: The charge for generation, including the cost of the transmission from generation facilities to the local distribution system. Refer to PSE&G’s website for current charge.
- 4. Price to Compare (PTC): A customer may choose to receive electric supply from PSE&G or a third party supplier. A customer who receives electric supply from a third party supplier will not have to pay the Basic Generation Service Charges (BGS) to PSE&G. The PTC per kWh for PSE&G’s BGS Charges for residential customers, by rate schedule, is indicated in the bill illustration above. The current PTC is available on PSE&G’s website.
